Course: PER-212

September 25-27, 2009

9/25/09 2:00 PM- 10:00 PM

9/26-27/09 8:00 AM- 5:00 PM

Location

State Preparedness Training Center
5900 Airport Road
Oriskany, NY 13424

This course is being presented by the Office of Homeland Security in conjunction with Texas Engineering Extension Service (TEEX).

The New York State Office of Homeland Security will be hosting the third annual weekend training symposium targeting volunteer emergency service providers. On September 25, 26 & 27th, the State Preparedness Training Center will host a program of training and presentations on preparedness for members of volunteer emergency service agencies. The Volunteer Emergency Service Weekend is open to members of volunteer fire and emergency medical service agencies throughout New York State as well as other volunteer emergency response agencies.

The main programs will consist of two tracks of training. All participants must choose Track 2 which is this course OR Track 1 which is the PER-211 (EMS: Operations and Planning for WMD Incidents).

You may register for either course at: http://www.security.state.ny.us/training/training_calendar.php

You Will Learn About: The unique personal protection challenges that responder's face during a weapons of mass destruction or terrorist incident. Major course topics include assessing WMD hazards, predicting the likely behavior of WMD materials, effectively operating and communicating in a unified command structure of the Incident Command System, determining detection equipment and personal protective equipment needs, performing emergency decontamination, and identifying defensive strategies for a WMD incident. This course provides the knowledge and skills needed to obtain certification through NPQS (ProBoard) at the NFPA 472 Hazardous Materials First Responder: Operations level. The course delivery consists of lectures, interactive participant activities, performance-oriented skills stations, small group discussions, multimedia scenarios, and an end-of course certification examination.
